

The Harvard police made an educated decision. And chose American Dynamics.

As you'd expect, the Harvard University Police made the intelligent decision and installed American Dynamics equipment at their campus headquarters. They route video through our rock-solid MegaPower™ 48 Matrix Switcher. They record everything on our innovative, industry-leading Intellex® Digital Video Management System. And they use our intuitive Network Client™ software to remotely view live and recorded video from Intellex units across the Harvard campus. Which just goes to prove that, at Harvard, the police are as smart as the students and faculty they protect.
